

FIXED INCOME ADVISORY COMMITTEE: TERMS OF REFERENCE 2018

INTRODUCTION

The PRI's signatories are its greatest strength. Advisory committees and working groups provide opportunities for signatories to convene, share knowledge and collaborate for change and impact. Through work with signatory groups, the PRI Executive ('Executive') aims to deliver practical, action-oriented research, tools, events and support to signatories around the world.

This document is a terms of reference for the PRI Fixed Income Advisory Committee (FIAC). The FIAC is made up of representatives from signatory organisations and the Executive.

The broad objectives of the FIAC are to:

- Advise on work stream strategy including goals and objectives for the work stream as a whole, and for on-going and distinct projects.
- Oversee activities within the work stream including sub-committee work on creating best practice implementation guidance, stakeholder outreach, and the PRI Reporting Framework.
- Help the Executive to deliver on its fixed income objectives where possible.

ROLE OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The FIAC will advise the Executive on overarching goals and objectives at the start of each strategic review – roughly every three to four years.

All work stream objectives should be specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bounded. Objectives for the current strategic phase of the work stream include:

- Raise awareness and understanding of responsible investment among mainstream capital market stakeholders such as research, portfolio management and risk practitioners.
- Help fixed income investors to develop robust processes for implementing the six Principles for Responsible Investment with particular focus on incorporating ESG in investment decisions, investor stewardship and reporting practices.
- Identify and share examples of best practice and thought leadership among PRI signatories.
- Engage with credit rating agencies and other non-investor stakeholders on ESG integration.

NOTES ON MEMBERSHIP

Target composition and tenure

- Target composition is 8-15 member organisations.
- Membership is to be representative of PRI's signatory base and ensure reasonable asset owner representation.
- Asset owners are appointed for a three year term.

- Investment managers and service providers are appointed for a two year term.
- Members have the option to step down at the end of each year.
- Members cannot serve two consecutive terms. They may re-apply after two calendar years.
- In cases where members are replaced by a colleague, terms relate to the organisation rather than the individual.
- The term of the Chair is typically between one and three years. The maximum tenure for a signatory organisation to sit on the FIAC, including a term as Chair, is five years. The Chair is appointed at the start of the calendar year. All members are entitled to submit their names for consideration, however the Executive retains the right to choose the Chair at its discretion based on the skills and experience required for the role.
- The Executive will review the FIAC composition annually, keeping in mind that there should be some degree of continuity from year to year.

Appointing members

- The Executive will publicise membership opportunities as they arise, including the criteria for appointment of members and timelines. This will be done via the fixed income and general PRI newsletters for a minimum of four weeks.
- The Executive aims for reasonable diversity in terms of the size, region and type of member organisations and a range of skills among individual members.
- The Executive has the discretion to accept two representatives from an organisation to sit on the FIAC; in which case, dual representation should offer complementary strengths from the two individuals rather than a duplication.
- Representatives should hold relatively senior positions within their organisation, preferably with investment experience.
- Member organisations are appointed by the PRI based on the strength and engagement of their representative. FIAC members should fulfil the following criteria:
 - work as a decision maker within a fixed income investment team (e.g., analyst, portfolio manager, CIO, risk related role) or work in a responsible investment role with significant time allocated to working with fixed income professionals;

 - be knowledgeable on current trends and good practices for integrating ESG into fixed income investment processes.

Signatories interested in participating should submit an expression of interest to:

anna.georgieva@unpri.org
