Signatory Update

July to September 2022
Welcome from David Atkin, CEO, PRI

Dear signatories,

With PRI in Person & Online in Barcelona just around the corner from 30 November – 2 December, we are looking forward to seeing many of you in-person and virtually soon. This is the leading global conference on responsible investment, offering a platform for you – alongside other members of the investment community – to learn, network and collaborate.

Confirmed speakers include: António Guterres, Secretary-General, United Nations; Fatih Birol, Executive Director, International Energy Agency; and Emmanuel Faber, Chair, International Sustainability Standards Board. For those who have not yet registered to join the event, there is still time. A full agenda and speaker line-up, as well as details on how to register, can be found on our dedicated website.

Just one of the topics we’ll discuss at the event is the global signatory consultation launched in September – PRI in a Changing World. The consultation is a key priority for PRI’s Board and explores key issues for the future of responsible investment; the PRI’s vision, mission and purpose; and the value we provide to signatories.

I’ve recently had the pleasure of engaging with many of you during the first part of the consultation, which includes workshops around the world. I’ve travelled to some 13 cities in recent weeks – and members of our Executive Team have engaged in many markets too. The feedback loop with you our signatories that the consultation is creating is invaluable, and we’re looking forward to launching a formal survey for all signatories globally in November.

The annual Signatory General Meeting (SGM) in October was integral to the first part of the consultation, and an important forum for dialogue between the PRI Board and signatories. Thank you to those signatories who joined the SGM. For those who couldn’t join, a recording is available on the PRI website.

The growing anti-ESG discourse was raised at the SGM, and we have seen increased critiques of ESG in recent months, primarily in the US. We take this seriously and are responding directly in the media and other channels. Our responses have highlighted that investors have a fiduciary obligation to consider ESG factors, and both markets and investors must be free to make their own choices about how they approach responsible investment and use ESG tools.

ESG is a mechanism to equip investors to better navigate important economic, social and environmental transitions – allowing investors to seize the opportunities, avoid the risks and protect the returns of beneficiaries.

I look forward to discussing these key issues further with you, in Barcelona and online.

Best,
David Atkin

Quarterly Board Report: Responsibilities and Priorities

Welcome to the first iteration of this report from the PRI Board, via the quarterly signatory update. The Board has met twice in person during this quarter.

The role of the Board is to be collectively responsible for the long-term success of the PRI, in particular:

- setting the strategy, risk appetite and structure;
- delegating the implementation of the strategy to the PRI Executive;
- monitoring the Executive’s performance against the strategy;
- exercising accountability to signatories;
- being responsible to relevant stakeholders.

For 2022/23 the Board has set three priorities

| Lead the ‘PRI in a Changing World’ signatory consultation | Oversee delivery of the 2023 Reporting Framework | Oversee organisational development, including signatory value proposition, target operating model and risk framework |

For more general information on the PRI’s governance see the governance pages of the PRI website.

To ask a question about the PRI’s governance or suggest an agenda for Board discussion please email governance@unpri.org.
At recent meetings the Board has discussed the PRI’s role in the coordination of signatory engagements and feedback from particular segments of signatories on the current reporting and future direction.

At the end of the 2021-24 strategy setting process the PRI Board committed to a conversation with signatories about the PRI’s mission. In the context of a rapidly changing external environment the Board agreed now is the right time to consult signatories and explore key issues for the future of responsible investment; the PRI’s vision, mission and purpose; and the value we provide to our signatories.

At the July and September meetings the Board has discussed and shaped the key themes of the signatory consultation. Part one of the consultation, from September to December 2022, will be signatory conversations, largely via regional workshops and webinars. Part two of the consultation, from November 2022 to January 2023, will be an online formal consultation survey. The Chair and CEO briefed signatories on the consultation at the Signatory General Meeting on 13 and 14 October and there are further webinars on 10 November.

The Board has also discussed the recent ‘ESG backlash’ in some markets, the PRI’s response, and also how this might inform the signatory consultation.

For more information see the consultation page on the PRI website and sign up to the 10 November webinars on the consultation here.
Quarterly Board Report: PRI Programmes

Our programmes deliver value for our signatories and ultimately work towards our aim to enable a sustainable global financial system.

Reporting and Assessment

A priority of the Board continues to be oversight of the delivery of the Reporting and Assessment (R&A) Framework. This has been discussed at every recent meeting including signatory feedback and how to improve the value and experience for signatories.

The Board has also discussed the longer trends in the reporting landscape and the role and value of the PRI reporting within this. At the recent meetings the Board has reviewed plans for the release of the 2021 outputs and the launch of the 2023 Framework. The Board is supported by the Reporting and Assessment Framework Oversight committee.

Flagship programmes

In this quarter the Board discussed the PRI’s programmes on climate; human rights and social issues; driving meaningful data; and sustainability outcomes.

The Board also received an update on all PRI-led and PRI-supported investor initiatives. These include Climate Action 100+, the Net Zero Asset Owner Alliance, the Advance Human Rights Collaborative Engagement, and other initiatives. The Board agreed to receive bi-annual updates on PRI-led initiatives to encourage review and strengthen oversight.
Quarterly Board Report: Governance

BOARD CHAIR
The current Chair, Martin Skancke’s third term ends in December 2023. The Board has established an ad hoc Chair Search Committee to support the Board in the search process. The intention is to appoint an executive search consultant in late 2022 and advertise the Chair role in early 2023.

BOARD EXTERNAL EVALUATION
The Board strives for best practice and continuous improvement. In April 2022 the Board undertook an external assessment. Overall, the results of the external review are that the Board and its committees function well. The report recommended several actions, which we are working on implementing. The summary of the external review provides further detail.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION
As with many of our signatories, DEI has been a strong area of focus at the PRI in recent years. The Board has approved a new DEI strategy, including a revised DEI policy and guidance. To ensure consistency with the new DEI policy the Anti-harassment & Discrimination (previously Dignity at Work), Disciplinary, Grievance and Whistleblowing policies have been updated accordingly. The Board has already stressed the requirement for a Chair search process that encourages a diverse candidate pool and reflects on diversity at every stage in the process.

BOARD ELECTIONS
The 2022 PRI Board annual election is for one asset owner representative position and one service provider representative position. The Board has encouraged asset owner candidates from emerging markets as well as other skills and characteristics. The candidates are announced at Signatory General Meeting. For more information see the 2022 elections page on the PRI website.
Quarterly Board Report: Operations

‘Walk the Talk’ programme

- As part of ensuring we are holding ourselves to account, including our policies and processes, and that they are aligned to the PRI’s mission, we have started a ‘Walk the Talk’ programme. In September 2022 the Board approved a new climate change policy and updated human rights policy. The Board agreed to a gradual roll out of the policies and underlying processes and controls, with the aim of reporting our progress in the 2022/23 annual report.

Financial and operational reports

- At the September meeting the Board reviewed a revised organisational dashboard with measures on the performance of the organisation, including signatory engagement, people and culture, and financials.

- At each meeting the Board is updated on key financial and operational information. At the July meeting the Board approved the annual pay review for employees.

- At the September meeting the Board discussed the mid-year budget and possible 2023 signatory fees scenarios. The PRI is operating in a high inflation context (9.9% in the UK) and a tight labour market, increasing costs and impacting our budget. In this context the Board approved a moderate fee increase for 2023 to ensure the PRI continues to deliver its ambitious strategy and ensure long-term financial stability. The Board also stressed the importance of taking active steps to reduce the PRI’s own operating costs through efficiencies and economies of scale.

For more information on PRI signatories’ fees see the PRI website.

Taking action through climate initiatives

Moving towards net zero through investor action, corporate engagement and policy reforms

COP27, the annual UN climate conference, is taking place in early November in Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt. The PRI is prioritising the need for bold action at COP27, focusing on raising government and investor ambition towards net zero emissions goals. A summary of our COP27 activities can be found here, and the UN’s event website is here.

Recent moves on climate policy in the US and Australia have increased the chances of holding global warming to 1.8°C, but 1.5°C remains elusive. That’s according to the latest analysis from the Inevitable Policy Response research consortium. Released in early October, the IPR’s third-quarter update also contained a detailed analysis of the US’s “seismic” IRA legislation, after which there will be more than $1 trillion of public money available for clean energy and climate.

Check out our webinar presenting the findings

The investor-led coalition, which targets the largest greenhouse gas emitters, released its latest assessments in early October. It showed further progress in commitments – 75% of the companies in focus have now pledged to achieve net zero by 2050. But too few firms have credible strategies for decarbonising – only 19% of them have quantified these in detail. There remains plenty to do as the CA100+ initiative moves forward to its second phase in 2023. Also this quarter, the initiative released an updated version of its guide to climate engagements in Asia, and a short explainer on its decarbonisation indicator.

Net Zero Alliances and Initiatives

The Net Zero Asset Owners Alliance launched its second progress report in September. Now counting 77 institutional investors, the Alliance represents over $10.8 trillion in AuM. So far, 44 members are setting targets, meaning two-thirds of the Alliance’s AuM – $7.1 trillion – is under its target-setting framework. Proposed changes to the target setting protocol for the 3rd edition are now out for public consultation. The AOA also released a statement on blended finance in emerging markets in September, and hosted a webinar on the topic that can be found here.

Reporting by members of the Net Zero Asset Managers initiative who have set targets is under way, and a progress report will be launched at COP27. A progress report for the Net Zero Investment Consultants initiative is also under way, for publication in the coming months.

Since July, the PRI has also been acting as secretariat to the Net Zero Financial Service Providers Alliance, which is focusing effort on developing service-specific frameworks for Race to Zero approval, and implementing the alliance’s governance process.

Each year, the Investor Agenda (including PRI) delivers a Global Investor Statement on the Climate Crisis; this year, it has 532 investors with US$39 trillion in AUM. In July, the initiative also released guidance on Investor Climate Action Plans, or ICAPs – helping investors to understand the actions they can take to reach a net-zero emissions economy by 2050 or sooner.

PRI in Person & Online

PRI’s flagship conference takes place from 30 November to 2 December in Barcelona. There will be a session on corporate disclosure – how global sustainability standards meet the needs of investors on 30 November, between 14.15 and 15.30 CET. Find details to sign up for in-person or digital attendance here.

Trends in ESG reporting requirements for investors

The PRI has launched a new paper looking at ESG reporting requirements for investors around the world, and the trends driving the disclosures. The review covers a total of 120 instruments across five global reporting initiatives and nine key jurisdictions. We find that such requirements on investors are growing in most (but not all) jurisdictions, driven by four key trends.

New regional LFI reports: UK and Australia

Last year, PRI’s landmark Legal Framework for Impact report examined the legal basis for sustainable investment across 11 jurisdictions around the world. Our newly-published UK and Australia reports examine the situation in depth in those countries, and make specific recommendations to policymakers.

Policy

Canada

PRI welcomed Canadian regulators’ latest draft guidelines on climate risk management, and its alignment with the TCFD. We made recommendations on further co-ordination with the ISSB, CSSB and CFA.

European Union

The CEOs of the PRI, CDP, IIGCC and Eurosif published a letter to the European Commission arguing for ambitious efforts to bring EU legislation in line with the goal of a 55% reduction in GHG emissions by 2030. We said the same in our response to the EC President’s ‘State of the Union’ address.

We also published a position paper on the EU Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive.

US

PRI submitted comments on the SEC’s proposed disclosure for funds and advisers on their ESG-related investment practices.

PRI hosted a webinar on the latest developments in US climate policy.

We also commented on the SEC’s draft strategic plan for 2022-6, calling for support in the transition to a sustainable financial system.

UK

Several of the largest UK investors joined PRI, IIGCC and UKSIF in writing to the UK government to highlight how net-zero ambition can drive its pro-growth agenda, while delivering energy security.

We helped convene 39 investors to lobby for a new UK Business, Human Rights and Environment Act, and responded to consultations on the Transition Plan Taskforce and Green Finance Strategy.

Japan

We responded to government and regulatory consultations on human rights in supply chains, and on a draft code of conduct for ESG data and rating providers.

China

Chinese authorities have published new rules on establishing a standardised carbon emission accounting and statistics system by 2023, and improving it by 2025.

Australia

PRI responded to the Treasury’s review of the ‘Your Future, Your Super’ measures. We highlighted that certain changes might restrict superannuation funds’ ability to mitigate longer term system-level risks by shaping sustainability outcomes.

Update on 2021 PRI reports

The 2021 reports are available to access in the Data Portal.

- In September, PRI launched the 2021 reporting outputs, including the public and private Transparency Reports and investors’ confidential Assessment Reports, alongside an updated assessment methodology and guidance.
  - For support accessing and logging in to the Data Portal, see our Permissions System guide.
  - For support navigating the Data Portal, see our Data Portal user guide.
- Following the reports’ launch, we hosted a public webinar about the 2021 reporting outputs. The session provided a demonstration of how to access the reports, showcased new functionalities available in the Data Portal, and talked through the 2021 assessment methodology and how scores were calculated.
  - The full recording is available on-demand and can be accessed here.
- As part of our next release, targeted for November, we will be adding functionalities to the Data Portal that allow signatories to compare their result across peer groups and download the 2021 public dataset in CSV. More information on the functionalities will be shared in late November on the R&A Updates page.
- Historic public reports, from 2014 to 2020, are available on the PRI website.
Update on reporting in 2023

Visit R&A Updates for the latest information on Reporting & Assessment.

- The next PRI reporting cycle will open in May 2023, and close in August 2023.
- The 2023 Reporting Framework will be released in January.
  - This will contain details of the reporting criteria for 2023, including the full reporting structure, modules, and indicators (questions).
  - This will provide signatories with approximately four months to prepare for the 2023 reporting cycle before it opens – an increased preparation period compared to previous years.
- 2023 reporting outputs (Transparency Reports and confidential Assessment Reports) have been targeted for release in November 2023.
Update on reporting in 2023

Visit R&A Updates for the latest information on Reporting & Assessment.

- Some of the key changes to the 2023 Reporting Framework, include:
  - A reduction in the number of indicators investor signatories (investment managers and asset owners) are required to report on. This is due to streamlining of the reporting process and is based on signatory feedback.
  - The removal of reporting on investment decision-making for internally managed assets in the asset class modules for asset owner signatories. Asset owner signatories will still report on stewardship for those assets, including (proxy) voting if applicable, through other core modules.
  - A pause on reporting for service provider signatories until further notice, to focus time and resources on updating the service provider Reporting Framework. We want to ensure the Framework is fit-for-purpose and updated to reflect the current responsible investment landscape.

- These changes have been made with a view to curating the most effective reporting process for signatories. They are based on extensive signatory feedback and content updates, with the aim of optimising the process for signatories.

- We will continue to share additional information about reporting in 2023 on R&A Updates.

The Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI)

The PRI works with its international network of signatories to put the six Principles for Responsible Investment into practice. Its goals are to understand the investment implications of environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues and to support signatories in integrating these issues into investment and ownership decisions. The PRI acts in the long-term interests of its signatories, of the financial markets and economies in which they operate and ultimately of the environment and society as a whole.

The six Principles for Responsible Investment are a voluntary and aspirational set of investment principles that offer a menu of possible actions for incorporating ESG issues into investment practice. The Principles were developed by investors, for investors. In implementing them, signatories contribute to developing a more sustainable global financial system.
