RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2014/15

Sustainable Capital Ltd

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2014-15 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
Ⓜ	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

Sustainable Capital specialises in African responsible investment. Our country and company sustainability assessment systems have been designed on the underlying premise that international best practice in the sustainability field needs to be applied within an African context. This context brings its own unique challenges and opportunities that are difficult to address using a developed world framework.

In our experience, the investment process of a Sustainable Investment Manager operating in Africa needs to account for the unique context and materiality of the continent's sustainability challenges and opportunities. The long-term sustainability factors that are material to shareholder value are specific to each particular country, industry and company context. Our experience indicates that established developed world approaches to sustainable investment management are poorly equipped to deal with the unique materiality of Africa's sustainability risks and opportunities. As a consequence, we have designed our investment process to assess and price these sustainability factors.

Our investment approach is Africa-specific and relies mostly on a 'best-of-breed', positive screening methodology. This investment approach goes beyond a simple negative stock screen by integrating sustainability performance into portfolio construction and position weights.

The effectiveness of our investment process relies on the quality of the research outcomes, which in turn depends on the ability of our sustainable investment analysts to assess the materiality of environmental, social and economic capital to a company's fair value. It is challenging to find high-quality professionals who have both an in-depth understanding of sustainability issues as well as the ability to conduct rigorous financial analysis and company valuation. As a consequence, it has become common practice amongst sustainable investment asset managers to separate the functions of investment research and sustainability research.

However, our experience has led us to believe that this is not the the best way to integrate ESG factors into investment valuations because the crux of the investment case is often 'lost in translation' between the sustainability expert and the investment analyst. For this reason, we have patiently built a team of professionals that have a combination of significant training and experience in both investment analysis and sustainability research.

We firmly believe that environmental, social and governance factors are best integrated into investment practices and valuations by professionals who have an in-depth understanding of both sustainability and company valuation.

LEI 03.2	Describe your primary reasons for choosing a particular ESG incorporation strategy.

Sustainable Capital believes that integration is the most appropriate method when applying responsible investment strategies in Africa. We do, however, appreciate a minimum level of quality (across our sustainability assessments) and minimum standards (exclusion of companies for which there are strong evidences of repeated, significant and systematic violations of international standards and principles) that should be applying before a company can enter into the investment universe.

- Universal Declaration of Human Rights
- International Labour Organization Conventions
- United Nations Convention Against Corruption
- OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises
- Other, specify
In-house

Description

Sustainable Capital applies a 'norms-based' screening to all its investments. The rationale is to engage (and if necessary, exclude) companies that fail to meet the minimum requirements for inclusion in its funds. Indeed, certain sustainability/ESG issues are, due to their inherent nature, in conflict with the core values and fiduciary duty of Sustainable Capital and its clients. These issues often represent an unacceptably high level of downside investment and reputational risk to the point where the integrity of the fund is undermined. The exclusion of companies is only applied to companies for which there are strong evidences of repeated, significant and systematic violations of international standards and principles with no indication that necessary actions have been taken to avoid future violations.

LEI 06.2

Describe how the screening criteria are established, how often the criteria are reviewed and how you notify clients and/or beneficiaries when changes are made.

We screen bi-annually based on our undated sustainability information.

LEI 07	Mandatory	Core Assessed	PRI 1
--------	-----------	---------------	-------

LEI 07.1 Indicate which processes your organisation uses to ensure that screening is based on robust analysis.

- Comprehensive ESG research is undertaken or sourced to determine companies' activities and products.
- Companies are given the opportunity by you or your research provider to review ESG research on them and correct inaccuracies
- External research and data used to identify companies to be excluded/included is subject to internal audit by ESG/RI staff, the internal audit function or similar
- Company ESG information/ratings are updated regularly to ensure that portfolio holdings comply with fund policies
- A committee or body with representatives independent of the individuals who conduct company research reviews some or all screening decisions
- A periodic review of the quality of the research undertaken or provided is carried out
- Other, specify
- None of the above

LEA 05.2

Describe how you identify and prioritise collaborative engagements.

The investment research process requires on the ground, in-situ due diligence research by the investment analysts. Through this process, sustainability risks and opportunities are identified and discussed with target company management. Sustainable Capital's long-term investment time horizon allows us to engage constructively on environmental, social and governance factors that are material to long-term shareholder value. We have experienced significant interest from progressive companies in providing feedback to their management teams on their company sustainability ratings and on identifying potential areas for improvement.

Once we have committed to engaging with a company, we target the most material sustainability risks or opportunities where value is most likely to be unlocked. Engagement is conducted mainly through direct management contact.

The engagement criteria include:

- Is there a strong business and investment case for the engagement?
- Can value be unlocked by lowering risk or enhancing free cash flows?
- Is management willing to engage and take the necessary action?
- To what extent can management enforce the necessary change?
- Fiduciary duty: Will the engagement enhance long-term risk-adjusted returns?
