RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2013/14

Global Environment Fund

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2013-14 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted. This results in some Principles not being explicitly highlighted. For instance, Principle 1 and 2 cannot be implemented without implementing Principle 3, but there are cases when Principle 3 is not explicitly highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
⚠	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

Mandatory

PRI 2

PE 04.1

Indicate if your organisation's investment guidelines for private equity refer to responsible investment.

☉ Our investment guidelines do refer to responsible investment

Responsible investment is integrated into GEF's mission and investing practices. GEF considers environmental, social, and governance factors as central to its mission of investing in sustainable businesses globally. We believe responsible investment is essential to generating strong returns, by (i) specifically targeting investments that create environmental and social benefit, (ii) providing rigorous decision-criteria to manage risk and identify opportunities, and (iii) avoiding investments that cause environmental harm or social inequality.

The GEF Sustainability Approach contains strategies, frameworks, resources, guidance, processes, and training for managing ESG risks, identifying opportunities, and creating value in our portfolio companies.

As a clean energy, environmental, and sustainable timberlands investor, GEF has several layers of ESG review and compliance across its many Funds. These include the following:

1. Each investment memorandum includes a section on the environmental rationale for the investment, which is a relatively unique feature at GEF compared to most fund groups. GEF only makes investments that can have a positive impact on energy or the natural environment consistent with the Fund's mandate, as well as a favorable impact on the reduction of GHG emissions. The investment team makes a positive environmental case for why a Fund should undertake a particular investment, which is reviewed and approved by the investment committee.
2. Each portfolio company must comply with the GEF ESG policy, relevant national standards and laws, and international standards on environmental compliance, safety, and relevant labor and social conditions, and specifically the IFC Performance Standards for investments in emerging markets. All investments include environmental, social and governance covenants in the shareholder agreement that govern the portfolio companies' behavior in terms of these standards, its ESG Action Plan, where relevant, and defining its ESG reporting requirements.
3. Each Fund performs environmental and social due diligence on potential investments with the assistance of outside consultants where relevant, which helps to define the criteria and standards applied in the covenants in point 2 above. In cases where there are deficiencies in compliance at the time of the investment, the company must agree to implement an ESG Action Plan, providing a list of improvements and a timeline for the company to meet those improvements. In many cases, the Fund will require an environmental audit of compliance with the ESG Action Plan after an agreed period of time. The Fund will also assist the portfolio company in developing a Social and Environmental Management System (SEMS) where appropriate, and once the ESG Action Plan has been completed, continue to help management set ESG goals, support ESG programs being integrated into its core operations, and use ESG as an integral part of value creation.
4. As part of our Anti-Money Laundering (AML) procedures, and during due diligence, GEF performs background checks on the promoters, company, key management and significant shareholders.
5. GEF also works closely with each portfolio company to establish and strengthen corporate governance, laying the groundwork for long-term growth and value creation. In many of the family or founder-controlled companies in which we invest, transparent corporate governance policies need to be improved from when we begin discussions. At the time of investment, a number of provisions related to good corporate governance are incorporated into shareholder agreements and other transaction documents. In addition, GEF works with companies over time to improve their corporate governance policies such as improved documentation of board and shareholder decisions, strengthened internal financial controls, and when appropriate, appointment of independent board directors and the establishment of an audit and compensation committee.

6. To monitor compliance with ESG standards and requirements (beyond any required independent audits or reviews), each portfolio company must complete GEF's Annual ESG Monitoring Form. Relevant environmental and social metrics are noted, including the reduction of GHG emissions. GEF reports annually to its investors on the ESG practices and achievements on each Fund's portfolio companies.
7. In addition, the Fund will notify the Advisory Board of the Fund of any adverse material environmental or social incidents occurring in the portfolio company.
