RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2013/14

Perennial Investment Partners Limited

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2013-14 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted. This results in some Principles not being explicitly highlighted. For instance, Principle 1 and 2 cannot be implemented without implementing Principle 3, but there are cases when Principle 3 is not explicitly highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
⚠	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

PRI disclaimer

This document is based on information reported by signatories and responses have not been independently audited by the PRI Secretariat, PRI working groups, or any other third party. While this information is believed to be reliable, no representations or warranties are made as to its accuracy and no responsibility or liability can be accepted for any error or omission.

Provide any additional information about your organisation, its mission, strategies, activities or investments which are important to contextualise your responsible investment activities.

Perennial Investment Partners Limited ('Perennial') is a specialist, active investment management firm, which operates as a group of five specialist boutique businesses. Each boutique is focused on a particular investment discipline. Established in 1999, Perennial now manages over AUD17 billion on behalf of institutional and retail investors (as at 30 June 2013).

Perennial's business structure has been designed to create and foster a specialist investment management culture, allowing our investment people to focus on investing, whilst being able to leverage off the support infrastructure of the larger organisation. We believe this environment is attractive to our investment staff as it provides:

- Independence;
- Stability
- Incentives;
- Clarity/Focus; and
- Equity ownership in their own business.

Our key investment staff have the opportunity to own equity in their respective businesses and are therefore single minded in ensuring delivery of performance ahead of benchmark. At the heart of Perennial's equity ownership structure is the philosophy of aligning our investment professionals' interests with those of our clients. This alignment of interests extends to our commitment to astute investing in a responsible manner.

Each of the Perennial boutiques are separate in nature: personnel, asset class, investment process, inputs, philosophy. Whilst many of the boutiques have similar applications to responsible investing, these differences may also result in a variation in the manner of application. We are supportive of these variations, as diversity in the boutique's approaches can bring with it more robust ideas.

Given our boutique nature and resourcing constraints, a collegiate approach to implementation was established to brainstorm, debate and implement our UNPRI commitments. Our collegiate approach established the Perennial Sustainability Committee.

OA 07.1 Provide a brief description of your organisation's governance, management structures and processes related to responsible investment.

Given our Boutique structure, where each investment team is independent and undertakes a different approach, a collegiate application to the implementation of ESG principles into our business was required. From this, the Sustainability Committee was borne.

The Perennial Sustainability Committee continually reviews and improves our ESG practices. The Committee aims to bring together all aspects of the business, to improve stakeholder management and reporting, and to develop and implement business initiatives.

The Committee is represented by:

- Perennial Executive (Chairman of Sustainability Committee and a Perennial Director);
- Perennial Value;
- Perennial Growth;
- Perennial Real Estate Investments;
- Perennial Fixed Interest;
- Perennial International Equities Management;
- Perennial Marketing and Sales;
- Perennial Legal, Risk and Compliance; and
- Perennial Operations.

The Committee is a conduit for communications on ESG issues throughout the business. Ideally, ideas in which to implement our ESG initiatives will be developed from the grassroots of the business, our staff.

LEI 02.1	Provide a brief overview of how you incorporate ESG issues in listed equity investments.

All five Perennial boutiques take ESG considerations into account as part of their fundamental research on each company. Each boutique incorporates the results into their investment process slightly differently. For example, Perennial Value have ESG aspects as part of their written research which is part of their qualitative process while Perennial Real Estate and Perennial International incorporate ESG as part of their quantitative research process.

Perennial Investment Partners believes that quality of management is a critical factor in determining the likely future performance of a company. As a result, Perennial places considerable weight on management quality when assessing the attractiveness of a company as a potential investment. ESG considerations are among the factors contributing to the overall assessment of the quality of management of companies being analysed. Further, failure to consider ESG issues can increase the risks associated with an investment. Therefore this is taken into account as it is considered by Perennial as a risk of investing.

While Perennial Value, Perennial Growth, Perennial International and Perennial Real Estate each incorporate ESG in a different manner due to the underlying segments assets posing individual challenges, there are common principles underpinning activities.

1. When analysing a company for possible inclusion in the portfolio, the Analyst responsible must complete an ESG analysis. Each boutique has a set of ESG questions to ask each company at least twice annually or more frequently where necessary.
2. The Perennial boutiques also actively promote the development or extension of company specific Sustainability Reports.
3. The Perennial boutiques actively promote the provision of ESG research by brokers. This may occur by specific requests for this information; annual broker panel assessment or explicit promotion through involvement in third party lobby groups.
4. The Perennial boutiques have access to third party assessment of ESG issues where required. This may include access to CGI Glass Lewis or Riskmetrics analysis of a company. This information is used as a sounding board only. It is the boutique's intimate company knowledge and internally generated research which will be used for decision making on ESG issues.
5. Where an investment fails the boutiques ESG criteria, this investment is no longer eligible for inclusion in the portfolio.

The majority of Perennial's equity investments (99.7% of AUM) use an integration strategy to incorporate ESG as we believe this strategy is the most appropriate and meaningful way to integrate ESG considerations to our investment process. This strategy places the integration of ESG on the same level as other important key metrics that are considered when analysing sound companies to invest in.

Perennial Growth incorporates ESG using the screening process for the Perennial Socially Responsive Shares Trust (0.3% of AUM). The portfolio invests using a stakeholder model. This model aims to highlight those companies that deliver sustainable returns, assessed not only by financial factors but also through assessing social, labour, ethical and environmental measures. In addition to positive screening, we also use negative screens to exclude companies associated with unacceptable sectors, industries, and/or activities. Our research for this portfolio is augmented by independent research on social responsibility in the Australian market place.

As shown above, Perennial collects ESG research from a range of sources including but not limited to internal fundamental research, extensive company meetings, public available sustainability and company reports, external ESG provides such as SIRIS, Guerdon Associates, CGI Glass Lewis and Bloomberg. This research allows Perennial's analysts to form their own view on each company and the ESG issues that may surround it and integrate this into the company's valuation.

To promote quality research from the sell-side we discuss ESG issues with broking analysts so they are aware that we value their input. More formally, we include the quality of ESG research as part of our Broker panel analysis. Each broker is assessed during this analysis with these results used to allocate brokerage.

LEI 04.3	Indicate if you incentivise brokers to provide ESG research.

Yes

LEI 04.4	Describe how you incentivise brokers.

Brokers are incentivised to provide ESG research by two methods:

6. An important factor in the Annual Broker review is quality and amount of ESG research a broker provided over the previous year. This is a key factor in determining the percentage of brokerage that will be allocated to the broker over the upcoming year. Other factors that form the end rating include level of service, quality of company analysis etc.
7. Brokers can also be incentivised and rewarded for quality ESG research by tagging them in trades. An example of when this may occur is if a broker was to provide a high quality report on ESG which may be company, sector or country specific.

The Perennial Compliance Department monitors all portfolios on a daily basis for compliance with investment guidelines. Monitoring occurs on internally developed systems with feeds from investment management systems and the Custodian. The compliance system is based on a post-trade analysis. A pre-trade compliance system is in place for all Australian equities portfolios utilising the IRESS system and Bloomberg AIMs for International equity portfolios.

The pre-trade systems have hard rules that will not permit the particular trade (eg seeking to purchase an unauthorised security) and soft rules which require authorisation to proceed (eg buying securities without sufficient cash may be authorised as it is the first stage of a transaction also involving the sale of securities to fund the purchase).

A post trade compliance system has been developed by Perennial that receives direct feeds from Perennial's Operations department and National Asset Servicing (Custodian). Portfolio data is uploaded in to the system and compliance checked against investment guidelines on a daily basis.

Breaches

Once a breach is detected, the Perennial Compliance Department prepares a formal memorandum detailing the incident. The memorandum is forwarded to the relevant Portfolio Manager so that they can detail the reason for non-compliance and the remedial action to be taken. The Compliance Department reviews the explanation and corrective action for validity. Breaches are to be rectified as soon as possible (within 24 hours).

Each breach, the reason for its occurrence and the corrective action taken is noted to:

- Managing Director, Perennial and Group Compliance (i.e. IOOF Investment Management Limited) as well as Client Services in a monthly Compliance Report; and
- The Perennial Board which generally meets bi-monthly.

Where a breach has occurred, appropriate remedies are considered and put in place to compensate for any loss and/or ensure that further breaches should not occur. Remedies (depending on severity) will include training, counselling, changes in supervision, changes in procedures, formal disciplinary action or termination of employment.

Engagement

Overview

LEA 01	Voluntary	Descriptive	PRI 2
LEA 01.1	Provide a brief overview of your organisation's approach to engagement.

It is Perennial's policy that our investment managers should improve and uphold the governance of the entities in which we invest, together with competence and integrity of management. The long-term interest of our investors is our central ethos. For corporate governance to be effective, it is necessary for us and other shareholders to be willing to act as owners of companies and to express our views to boards of directors, as well exercising our voting rights.

Perennial engages with companies on governance issues often. This is conducted by each individual analyst and with any concerns or changes being discussed at the teams weekly meeting. Perennial's policy is to vote on all company resolutions, where we have the ability to do so. We believe that voting rights are a valuable asset and should be held in high regard. We try to vote 'yes' or 'no' in all circumstances. We prefer not to 'abstain' from any vote.

Perennial has a Corporate Governance Policy which outlines our engagement process.

LEA
03.2

Describe how you identify and prioritise engagements.

Perennial engages with companies on governance issues often. This is conducted by each individual analyst and with any concerns or changes being discussed at the teams weekly meeting.

Perennial should vote on all company resolutions considered at general meetings where it has the voting authority and responsibility to do so, regardless of the materiality of the resolution.

Voting rights are a valuable asset which should be managed with the same care and diligence as any other asset. Ultimately, shareholders' ability to influence management depends on shareholders' willingness to exercise those rights.

Perennial generally supports boards by positive use of its voting power unless there is good reason for doing otherwise (for example, a proposal which Perennial believes will damage shareholders' rights or economic interests). Where a board has received steady support over a period of time, it should become a matter of concern for the board if that support is not forthcoming on a particular matter.

If Perennial intends to vote against a proposal, it may consider it appropriate to contact the company in time for the problem to be considered with a view to achieving a satisfactory solution.

Where a satisfactory outcome cannot be achieved on an important issue, the relevant fund manager or delegate may attend the meeting of the company to explain why the proposal is being opposed. In such cases a poll may be demanded to ensure that the vote is duly recorded.

Perennial may abstain from voting on proposals where it is unable to support the resolution but where it believes that it would be against investors' interests to oppose publicly.

Where Perennial does not vote, that decision will be disclosed as part of the voting requirements of this Policy.

All votes must be made in the best interest of the unit holders and clients.

Perennial's boutiques will always engage our issues and concerns with the company first, prior to resorting to a further course of action. In some circumstances, Perennial has engaged the press to highlight any corporate governance issues. These issues are obviously disclosed publically. Perennial has also engaged with other investment managers or substantial shareholders to gain a consensus on an issue. However, these are extreme measures and we find it more beneficial to engage the company directly to achieve a better result.

Perennial's boutiques also include a section in their Trust's quarterly commentaries discussing any positive or negative ESG issues over the quarter. These often contain details of engagements undertaken over the period.

(Proxy) voting and shareholder resolutions

Overview

LEA 16	Voluntary	Descriptive	PRI 2
--------	-----------	-------------	-------

LEA 16.1	Provide a brief overview of your organisation's approach to (proxy) voting (including the filing and/or co-filing of shareholder resolutions if applicable).

Perennial votes on all company resolutions considered at general meetings where it has the voting authority and responsibility to do so, regardless of the materiality of the resolution.

Voting rights are a valuable asset which should be managed with the same care and diligence as any other asset. Ultimately, shareholders' ability to influence management depends on shareholders' willingness to exercise those rights.

Perennial generally supports boards by positive use of its voting power unless there is good reason for doing otherwise (for example, a proposal which Perennial believes will damage shareholders' rights or economic interests). Where a board has received steady support over a period of time, it should become a matter of concern for the board if that support is not forthcoming on a particular matter.

If Perennial intends to vote against a proposal, it may consider it appropriate to contact the company in time for the problem to be considered with a view to achieving a satisfactory solution.

Where a satisfactory outcome cannot be achieved on an important issue, the relevant fund manager or delegate may attend the meeting of the company to explain why the proposal is being opposed. In such cases a poll may be demanded to ensure that the vote is duly recorded.

Perennial may abstain from voting on proposals where it is unable to support the resolution but where it believes that it would be against investors' interests to oppose publicly.

Where Perennial does not vote, that decision will be disclosed as part of the voting requirements of this Policy.

All votes must be made in the best interest of the unit holders and clients.

Process

Approach

- We use our own research or voting team and make our own voting decisions without the use of service providers.
- We hire service provider(s) which make voting recommendations or provide research that we use to inform our voting decisions.

Based primarily on

- the service provider voting policy signed off by us
- our own voting policy
- our clients requests or policy
- other, explain

We hire service provider(s) which make voting decisions on our behalf, except for some pre-defined scenarios for which we review and make voting decisions.

- Obtain confirmation that votes have been lodged:
- Participate in projects to improve the voting trail and/or to obtain vote confirmation
- None of the above

LEA 19.2	Provide additional information on your organisation's vote confirmation efforts.
-----------------	--

Perennial has authorised Glass Lewis through their VeivPoint product to lodge our votes for us via the various platforms available to us (Broadridge, ProxyEdge etc). By way of audit Glass Lewis can extract lodgement reports on our behalf to show evidence that our votes were lodged within the meeting timeframes.

Part of our internal/external audit process is to sign off that we have lodged our votes in accordance with the fund managers' wishes.

ESG incorporation in actively managed fixed income

FI 03	Voluntary	Descriptive	PRI 1
FI 03.1	Provide a brief overview of how you incorporate ESG issues in fixed income investments.
	Fixed Income - Corporate

Perennial Fixed Interest understands that while managers of equities have made progress in relation to integrating ESG factors into their investment processes, within fixed interest, there are some additional challenges. For fixed interest and debt securities, we see that corporate governance, significant environmental, social and/or reputational factors may play a role in the solvency of borrowing firms and their ability to meet debt obligations or may impact default risk, potentially impairing the value of fixed interest securities. Governance factors may also impact the ability of sovereigns to meet interest obligations. ESG factors are incorporated as part of the credit process when we evaluate issuers. We first ask the question is the company a stable or improving credit story, and then we consider ESG factors.
