Introduction

The Collaboration Platform is a unique forum that allows investors to:
✓ pool resources with peers
✓ share information
✓ enhance their influence on ESG issues.

Collaborations include:
▪ invitations to sign joint letters to companies;
▪ joint investor-company engagements;
▪ proposals for research;
▪ calls to foster dialogue with policy makers; or
▪ requests for support on upcoming resolutions or votes.

PRI Signatories and Network Supporters can create collaborations and invite other users to join Collaborations. Non-signatories can view and request to join certain collaborations. The PRI can also create collaborations on behalf of stakeholders.

By accessing the Platform users are agreeing to abide by the Platform terms of use.

Creating a Collaboration

In Step 1, you can add key information about your Collaboration. All information shared in this step will be displayed across the Collaboration Platform.

- Collaboration image
- Collaboration name
- Created by

- Summary – a short, one-line overview of the Collaboration

- Whether you are actively seeking support from collaborators, and until what date

- Main contact – the contact added here will be the person to which messages are directed when users click ‘Message collaboration contact’, so please ensure your main contact has opted in to receiving messages in their Privacy settings.
Creating a Collaboration

In Step 2, you can add further Collaboration details and select visibility settings for these details.

- Collaboration details *

- Objectives

- Attachments – These should relate to the overall aim of the collaboration. Additional documents you only want to share with your Collaboration members can be added in the ‘Files’ tab once the Collaboration has been created.

- Terms of reference

- Engagement focus organisations – for example, individual companies, policy makers, regulators etc. who are the target of this collaboration.

By uploading a Terms of Reference document, prospective members will be required to confirm they agree to the Terms of Reference when requesting to join your Collaboration.

You can select one or more options for each field.
Creating a Collaboration

In Step 3, you can add further Collaboration details. All information shared in this step will be displayed across the Collaboration Platform.

- ESG theme *
- ESG sub-theme
- Sector
- Sustainable Development Goal *
- Geography *
- Asset class *
- Asset class subcategory

The following fields only apply to the collaboration type ‘Resolution or vote’:

- AGM date
- Linked resolution to the database
- Lead filer
- Co-filers

The Resolution Database allows PRI Signatories to declare their voting intentions on votes listed. If you’d like to link your Collaboration to a resolution in the Database, you can do so here.
Creating a Collaboration

In Step 4, you can select your Collaboration’s visibility.

- Visibility of Collaboration *
  - Public – all registered users will be able to request to join, irrespective of user type
  - All Collaboration Platform users – anyone can register for the Collaboration Platform
  - Only selected user types – restrict who can request to join by user type (select in checkboxes below)
  - Invitation only – your collaboration will not feature in search results, and you will have to invite all members

- Most Collaborations will be available to signatories only. The PRI ultimately makes the decision of which Collaborations are available to non-signatories.

- Anyone with the Collaboration URL will be able to see the collaboration member list if ‘Publicly’ is selected.
Creating a Collaboration

In Step 5, you have the option to edit the tabs which are visible in the Collaboration and select the Default landing tab when someone enters the Collaboration.

You also have the option to add sign up questions and file requests that users will be asked to answer if they request to join your Collaboration. If you don’t need prospective members to answer any questions, this section can be left blank.
Creating a Collaboration

At the end of Step 5, you can save your Collaboration as a draft and revisit it at a later time, or submit it for approval by PRI. Once reviewed by PRI, you will receive an email notification when the Collaboration has been approved. ‘Discussion’ Collaborations do not require approval but will be reviewed by PRI when created.

To submit your Collaboration, you’ll need to check this box confirming that you’re happy to receive messages from Collaboration Platform users regarding this Collaboration.

If you want to come back to your Collaboration and finish adding details later, click ‘Save as draft’.

Click on ‘Submit’ when you have finished setting up your Collaboration.
Managing a Collaboration: Creating subspaces

Subspaces can be used to create a private space for a subset of Collaboration members and have similar functionality and privacy options to Collaborations.

- Multiple subspaces can be created within a Collaboration, but a subspace cannot be created within a subspace.
- In a subspace you can invite members, add files, create events and share posts.
- Note that subspaces are not available in discussion type Collaborations.
Managing a Collaboration: Manage members tab

Collaboration Owners can use the 'Manage members' tab to add and remove members from the Collaboration.

A list of Collaboration Members can be exported to Excel. Any sign-up questions answered by the members will be included.

Collaboration Owners can click on the 'Invite members' button to send invitations to specific Collaboration Platform users.
Managing a Collaboration: Manage members tab

Using the Actions menu, Collaboration Owners can view sign up question responses, make a member a Collaboration Owner (or demote from Collaboration Owner to member) or remove a member from the Collaboration. You can also send a message to all or selected members.
Sharing the correct collaboration link with non-members

To share a collaboration URL with non-members, make sure you are on the ‘About’ section when you copy the URL. The link should end with ‘/about’.

Copying and sharing the collaboration link from any other sections (Ex: Task, Calendar) will prevent non-members from accessing the collaboration.
Converting a discussion

Discussions can be used to gauge investor interest for a topic before launching formal Collaboration. Discussion owners are able to convert their discussion into a different type of Collaboration, such as an investor statement or shareholder resolution. All of the content will be retained, and new features (subspaces and companies) will be available.

Click on the edit button on the top right-hand corner of your Collaboration and select ‘Convert to initiative’.

Select ‘Convert my discussion’. You will then be asked to choose a new Collaboration type.

Ending a Collaboration

When a Collaboration has finished, it should be marked as Completed on the Collaboration Platform.

Click on the edit button on the top right-hand corner of your Collaboration and select 'Mark as Completed'.

Make sure you have added any final documents to the Files tab before marking as Completed!
Ending a Collaboration

On ending the Collaboration, you have the opportunity to revisit the Collaboration’s objectives and add any outcomes of the Collaboration.

Please ensure you have attached any final documents to your collaboration before wrapping up.

Any objectives you previously entered will appear here. You can edit previously stated objectives on this screen if you wish.

Enter the outcomes of the Collaboration.

Please note that the visibility settings you choose for your collaboration summary will apply to your objectives and outcomes.

The privacy settings chosen for your summary and business case will also apply to your objectives and outcomes.
